

LATIN (LATN)

LATN-1000 Beginning Latin I (4 credits) (Fall Semester)

Beginning Latin I (4) (F) This course is offered to meet the needs of students who have had no introduction to Latin in high school and are interested in learning a reading knowledge of Latin. Emphasis is placed on vocabulary, grammar, and sight reading in the first semester. In the second semester, the emphasis is on extensive Latin reading. (C)
Prerequisite for LATN-1020: LATN-1000 or placement.

LATN-1020 Beginning Latin II (4 credits) (Spring Semester)

Beginning Latin II (4) (S) This course is offered to meet the needs of students who have had no introduction to Latin in high school and are interested in learning a reading knowledge of Latin. Emphasis is placed on vocabulary, grammar, and sight reading in the first semester. In the second semester, the emphasis is on extensive Latin reading. (C)
Prerequisite for LATN-1020: LATN-1000 or placement.

LATN-2120 Latin Literature in Translation (3 credits) (Discretion of Department)

Latin Literature in Translation (3) (D) Works studied in this course range in time from the classics of antiquity to the "modern" Latin of the Renaissance.

LATN-3110 Latin Prose Authors I (3 credits) (Discretion of Department)

Latin Prose Authors I (3) (D) The works read are determined by the needs and interests of the members of the class according to literary genres. These genres normally include: rhetoric, philosophy, and history. (AE).
Prerequisite(s): LATN-1020 or placement.

General Education Categories: Aesthetic Experience

LATN-3120 Latin Prose Authors II (3 credits) (Discretion of Department)

Latin Prose Authors II (3) (D) The works read are determined by the needs and interests of the members of the class according to literary genres. These genres normally include: rhetoric, philosophy, and history. (AE).

Prerequisite(s): LATN-1020 or placement.

General Education Categories: Aesthetic Experience

LATN-4110 Latin Poets I (3 credits) (Discretion of Department)

Latin Poets I (3) (D) The works read are determined by the needs and interests of the members of the class according to literary genres. These genres normally include epic, satire, and drama. (AE).

Prerequisite(s): LATN-1020 or placement.

General Education Categories: Aesthetic Experience

LATN-4120 Latin Poets II (3 credits) (Discretion of Department)

Latin Poets II (3) (D) The works read are determined by the needs and interests of the members of the class according to literary genres. These genres normally include epic, satire, and drama. (AE)

Prerequisite(s): LATN-1020 or placement.

General Education Categories: Aesthetic Experience

LATN-4590 Directed Readings I (3 credits) (Discretion of Department)

Directed Readings I (3) (D) A program of independent study open only to advanced students under the supervision of the instructor.

LATN-4600 Directed Readings II (3 credits) (Discretion of Department)

Directed Readings II (3) (D) A program of independent study open only to advanced students under the supervision of the instructor.

LATN-4990 Independent Study (1-4 credits) (Discretion of Department)

NULL