The Department of Economics considers essential that a student maintain a minimum grade of 'C' in the introductory and intermediate courses in the major. Exceptions may be made on a case-by-case basis and will be evaluated based in part on student performance on the ECON-COMP Senior Comprehensive Exam, the economics senior exam.

Transfer students majoring in Economics must take a minimum of 60% of the coursework required for the major at Benedictine College including ECON-3090 Macroeconomic Activity, ECON-3100 Intermediate Microeconomic Theory, and ECON-4110 History of Economic Thought.

In addition to the major and minor programs outlined above, the Department of Economics offers its students the opportunity to pursue specialized topics of study. These may include professions in the business community, the area of banking or finance, or simply better preparation for graduate studies in such diverse areas as law, political science, history, business administration, or economics itself. Specialized topic areas may include:

1. Macroeconomic orientation with forecasting and model building, as well as other areas of income determination;
2. Microeconomic orientation with emphasis on the firm with its maximizing/optimizing procedures and factor strength and rewards through income distribution;
3. Finance and banking orientation wherein the effective roles and use of financial resources are analyzed.

The course offerings for these topic areas are offered through independent studies, seminars, and special topic courses.
